America's small businesses are the job creating engine of our economy.

After billions in stimulus spending, and a lot of inside-the-beltway talk about economic recovery, unemployment remains high and job growth has been virtually non-existent. Congressman Akin, a member of the House Small Business Committee wants to hear from members of the small business community regarding what Congress and this Administration should do to produce growth for small businesses and create real jobs on “Main Street” now.

Congressman Akin will present the results of this meeting to the Administration to encourage it to work toward tangible, real results and job growth. Please join us and include your voice in the conversation and consequent report to the Administration.
